Miller also lost his seat, so the ward now has two Tories and one Lib Dem.

Lord True, who held on to his seat in East Sheen with 2,159 votes, said: "I always thought we would win. I think it is a comfortable win and it is a great vote of confidence by the public in the borough in the work that the council has been doing in the past four years."

"I hope we can work together a little bit more. I am

Group hug: Clare Head and Meena Bond

Councillor Meena Bond, who was re-elected in Kew, said: "I am absolutely delighted and elated."

Councillor Stephen Knight admitted his leadership of the Lib Dems could be in doubt after a poor showing.

He said: "My future as leader is a matter for our new group to decide in the next few weeks."

"I will certainly serve the opposition to the Tories. The Conservatives had 39 seats, while the Lib Dems had 15. Labour, UKIP and the Greens failed to make an impact on the race.

Visit fit for a princess

Royal-tee turned up at an official golf club unveiling in Richmond Park this week.

Princess Alexandra was invited to the Richmond Park Golf Course as it hosted the pening of its new clubhouse and courses on Wednesday, May 28.

The golf club, formed in 1924, saw other well-known faces in the borough attend the launch including the mayor of Richmond, Councillor Meena Bond.

For more information on the club, visit richmond-parkgolfclub.org.uk.
